Introduction

The third part of the Catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts conforms to the pattern of the second, with some significant modifications. Unlike previous volumes, the indexes are placed at the end of the catalogue without separate pagination. One new index, i.e. an index of works mentioned in the column of additional particulars, has also been added. For the sake of convenience references to the page numbers are replaced by serial numbers of the corresponding manuscripts.

To the 6,508 manuscripts listed in Pt. I and Pt. II, a further 3,492 are now added. Thus the serial numbers have now reached a total of exactly 10,000. It will be obvious from the accompanying table that the Bhakti material remains in the majority (some 34% of the whole), while Itihāsa-Purāṇa and Darśana have kept second and third place. Jain material appears here in substaintial quantity for the first time (117 texts). They are mainely in Prākrit The percentage of Bengali-script material is again slightly reduced (from 25% in Pt. II to about 20% here). Vaiśākhamāhātmya (S. No. 7443) has the distinction of bearing the autograph of Rūpa Goswāmi.
